Escape the ordinary...

N°01

Established in 1825, real estate agents Groupe Comptoir Immobilier are proud to be associated with the famous FORBES brand founded in 1917 in New York City, by working together on our most recent project, Forbes Global Properties.

As a result of this bold initiative, we are pleased to introduce you to our new subsidiary, FGP Swiss & Alps, which will be launched in June 2021. It will specialise in tailor-made brokerage of luxury properties and will be the exclusive representative of Forbes Global Properties for Switzerland and the French Alps. It will also be an embodiment of the Alpine heritage that is so important to us, as well as of our commitment to real estate excellence.

"Anything you do with passion becomes an art," my father and mentor Paul Epiney, Chairman and CEO of Groupe CI, once told me.

As the business of our family company has grown, I have cultivated this passion which is fuelled primarily by the values we deliver to our customers.

With this in mind, FGP Swiss & Alps has established itself as a company built on intergenerational expertise, while harnessing the latest technology. Benefiting from the resources and skills of organisations such as Comptoir Immobilier and FORBES Média, FGP Swiss & Alps is aimed not only at buyers and owners of exceptional properties, but recently grew to include any real estate professional who represents these properties on behalf of their clients. A partner chosen by the strong values that guides them, they are the embodiment of a prestigious and dynamic brand. As well as a showcase of unrivalled international influence, as we can see in their world leading economics publication.

In the following pages, you will have the opportunity to learn more about our team and our resources, but most of all about the extraordinary properties and developments we are honoured to represent. You will discover exceptional and historic manor houses, exciting contemporary developments, cosy alpine chalets and interesting investment opportunities. Please bear in mind, however, that some of the more unique properties we offer are only available on request and in the strictest confidentiality.

You will also learn about our involvement as main sponsor of the Fondation du Grand Prix de l'Horlogerie de Genève, an initiative inspired by our connection to the Alpine region and more specifically, to Lake Geneva, known as the birthplace of international fine watchmaking. It is also inspired by the common values we share in this industry, which combines tradition and innovation, as well as the precision and artistic creativity displayed by the greatest architects.

Our team welcomes you to the world of FGP Swiss & Alps. We look forward to making your dreams come true so that, in the words of Le Corbusier, "The house continues to be the treasure of life".

Primary sponsor of GPHG Geneva Watchmaking Grand Prize

Comptoir Immobilier and the GPHG have had an unbreakable bond for over ten years now. Official sponsor via its prestige division, then main sponsor from 2020 onwards, the CI group is entrusting the reins of this long-standing partnership to its new subsidiary, FGP Swiss & Alps.

COMMON VALUES

Official sponsor of the GPHG since 2011, Comptoir Immobilier is the "longest-standing private sponsor," says Quentin Epiney, a member of the CI's General Management and Managing Director of FGP Swiss & Alps. In 2020, we increased our involvement by becoming their main sponsor. In the meantime, our group participated in the creation of Forbes Global Properties, an international partnership, which inspired the idea of creating FGP Swiss & Alps within the Comptoir Immobilier Group. It seemed natural to us that our new subsidiary, which benefits from an audience similar to that of the GPHG and shares its values, should become the figurehead of this partnership which is so important to us.

In fact, the GPHG promotes the Lake Geneva region through one of its most iconic economic sectors, promoting teamwork, innovation, local ties and also the passing on of expertise. "Our two companies have strong organic links that are likely to be mutually enriching, targeting well-informed audiences who are lovers of exceptional properties and who see Switzerland as a haven. In luxury real estate, as in watchmaking, the time factor is a key element. The objects and projects stay with their owners throughout their lives and even transcend generations," adds Quentin Epiney.

2021 EDITION: 20 YEARS OF THE GPHG

The 2021 prize list of the Geneva Watchmaking Grand Prix (GPHG) was unveiled on Thursday 4 November 2021 at a festive award ceremony to mark the 20th anniversary of the GPHG. The ceremony, poetically conducted by Edouard Baer, honoured contemporary watch-making excellence and creativity with 19 prizes awarded by the jury of thirty members, chaired by Nick Foulkes.

The Aiguille d'Or was awarded to Bulgari for the Octo Finissimo watch.

Audemars Piguet, Bernhard Lederer, Chopard, Christiaan Van Der Klaauw, CIGA Design, De Bethune, Furlan Marri, Grand Seiko, Louis Vuitton, MB&F, Piaget, Tudor, Van Cleef & Arpels and Zenith were also praised by the Jury and the GPHG Academy for their high quality designs in various categories.

The Jury's Special Prize, which rewards an outstanding personality or institution in the watchmaking world, was awarded this year to Dubai Watch Week.

Quentin Epiney had the pleasure of presenting the Prix de l'Audace to Jean Arnault, Marketing & Product Development Director of Louis Vuitton Watches, for the Tambour Carpe Diem watch.

Interview with the co-founders of Forbes Global Properties, Jeff Hyland and Bonnie Stone Sellers

The international launch of Forbes Global Properties took place almost a year ago. Can we talk about the highlights of this first year?

Bonnie : Forbes Global Properties is a private, invitation-only consortium established in December 2020. It is a group of real estate companies whose clients are hand-picked to gain access to the finest properties in the world. We have welcomed many new members to our network this year, in places like Dubai, Singapore and the US markets of Phoenix and Telluride. Our network now includes around 2,400 real estate professionals in over 140 locations in 10 countries.

Jeff: The response from buyers, sellers and property lovers around the world has been overwhelming. Forbes Global Properties is a bold, smart and much-needed platform that is redefining the way the world's finest properties are bought, sold and appreciated. It perfectly meets the expectations of the real estate world.

What benefits does Forbes Global Properties offer to buyers and sellers of luxury properties?

Bonnie : Forbes is one of the world's most trusted business publications, a respected brand with multi-generational appeal, and a household name among luxury property buyers. As Forbes' exclusive residential real estate partner, we have full access to the 130 million monthly visitors to the international website. We inform, inspire and connect buyers and sellers of luxury homes. Properties are promoted across Forbes' printed, online and social channels with targeted advertising, expert commentary, tailored articles and relevant market data.

Jeff: Forbes Global Properties is not only a listing tool for real estate agents, but also provides direct and measurable access to potential high net worth (HNW) clients through Forbes' global media reach. Buyers have direct and immediate access to the representing agent, a local expert who is recognised as the best in their field.

What are the most important selection criteria for joining the Forbes Global Properties network?

Bonnie: The members of Forbes Global Properties are highly qualified local market experts. Only companies that have been successful in selling luxury properties and have a reputation for providing a dedicated service to their clients are invited to join our network after a strict selection process, with leading real estate agencies like FGP Swiss & Alps.

Jeff: We are a hand-picked network of members, chosen by invitation only. We are not looking to become the biggest real estate brand or to be in every market. We are known for the quality and talent of our members. All are leaders in the industry and in the luxury market.

FGP Swiss & Alps, a founding member of the network, is your exclusive representative for Switzerland and the French Alps.

Why has Forbes Global Properties chosen FGP Swiss & Alps as an exclusive member?.

Jeff: FGP Swiss & Alps is an example of the outstanding calibre of agencies that make up our network. As one of the leading luxury real estate agencies in Switzerland, the company has an outstanding reputation for quality customer service and extensive expertise in the luxury market.

Bonnie: We are proud to have worked with the FGP Swiss & Alps team on many projects this year. The lifestyle and luxury homes they represent are truly world class.

BEAUTIFUL CONTEMPORARY VILLA

The village of Savièse, at the heart of the most beautiful ski resorts in the Valais region, is known for its year-round maximum sunshine. This magnificent property with a floor area of 1,000 m² is situated above the valley and offers a breathtaking view of the Alps. An indoor swimming pool with a spa area (sauna and steam room) completes this unique property.

Val d'Anniviers: focus on Grimentz

Considered to be one of the most genuine villages in the Valais region, Grimentz has been ranked as one of the most beautiful alpine resorts. The village is attractive not only for its authentic character, but also for its ski area and range of freeride attractions.

If you are sporty, inquisitive and like to learn about local traditions and customs, or if you enjoy strolling through cobbled streets between old stone houses with centuries-old wooden buildings, Grimentz is the place for you! This village is full of everything that history lovers could possibly want. Grimentz attracts both nature lovers and sports enthusiasts.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE RESORT...

The resort is located on the left bank of the Rhône valley and as a result benefits from a north-easterly exposure on most of the skiable slopes, which allows it to keep its snow cover and powder late in the season. The Grimentz heliport allows you to take off directly from the village and reach all the official landing sites in Valais and Switzerland. Grimentz is one of the few places in Europe where you can be picked up by helicopter and dropped off to take part in high altitude heli-sports.

IN WINTER: FREERIDING

The "Garde de Bordon" freeride area has over 100 hectares of unmarked runs. Made of steep slopes and towering cliffs, it is entirely dedicated to extreme skiers and snowboarders. Located at an altitude of between 2,400 and 3,000m, it attracts those who love powder snow and wide open spaces. However, this Freeride area is not secured: it is only open when the danger of avalanche is lower than "3".

IN SUMMER: LA COURONNE IMPERIALE

La Couronne Imperial - the 'Imperial Crown' has 13 peaks, 5 of which are over 4,000 metres high. The crown becomes more visible in summer and combines the five 4,000 metre mountains which form a large and renowned horseshoe: The Dent Blanche (4,356 m) – The Ober Gabelhorn (4,063 m) – The Zinalrothorn (4,221 m) – The Weisshorn (4,505 m) – The Bishorn (4,153 m).

GSTAAD and Saanen

The history of Gstaad in Switzerland has always been legendary. According to local tradition, the illustrious hills and valleys of the Saanen region, where Gstaad is located, were shaped by the hand of God. Although Gstaad's image may seem mythical, the hype is well-deserved. The key to Gstaad's success lies in the balance between charm and refinement.

Gstaad is much more than a glamorous mountain retreat for the stars. It is a village and a region where a diverse and demanding clientele finds what it is looking for during both summer and winter: excellence and serenity, in the spirit of Gstaad's slogan: "Come up, slow down".

CHARM AND REFINEMENT

Many come for the skiing or other activities such as cross-country skiing, tobogganing and winter hiking. Others come simply to slow down and enjoy the picturesque but lively lifestyle amidst the spectacular Saanen landscape.

A picturesque walk through the village centre and shopping for the finest goods is within easy reach. The city is full of gourmet restaurants offering a wide range of cuisines including French, Japanese and, of course, Swiss fondue.

TIMELESSNESS

The old world elegance has been preserved through strict land use restrictions, without inhibiting renovation works. Many of the region's hotels and homes have been modernised to meet the demands of today's comfort. The uniformity of the exterior designs, with wooden cladding, gabled roofs and decorative mouldings, helps to preserve the sense of timelessness that Gstaad is known for.

GSTAAD, ALL YEAR ROUND

Sometimes considered primarily a winter resort, Gstaad also attracts many visitors in summer. People from all over the world come to attend the major international events held during the summer months, from sports competitions such as the Swiss Cup, the Hublot Polo Gold Cup and the Swatch Beach Volleyball Major, to popular cultural events such as the Menuhin Festival and Country Night Gstaad.

EXPLORE GSTAAD'S SCHOOLS

Gstaad is home to the winter campus of Institut Le Rosey, the most expensive boarding school in the world. Founded in 1880, Le Rosey is often referred to as "the school of kings". Notable alumni include Prince Rainier III of Monaco, Marie-Chantal, Crown Princess of Greece and Edward, Duke of Kent, as well as members of prominent families such as the Rockefellers, Rothschilds and Borghese. To the north, is the John F. Kennedy International School, a small, prestigious boarding school with about 95 students aged 2.5 to 14 from 22 different nations.

The 3 Valleys

Skiing in the French Alps

MERIBEL

Its location and the beauty of the site make it particularly attractive to foreign clients. Walking around Meribel, you can often hear English being spoken. At the foot of the Vanoise natural park, Méribel is renowned for the preserved authentic charm of its architecture - stone, wood and slate. It is made up of several 'neighbourhoods', and is accessible via Les Allues before you reach the old village on one side and the centre on the other. Next are Méribel les Hauts and its Altiport and finally, Mottaret. All have their advantages and all have access to the slopes via the lifts.

COURCHEVEL

In the hills of the Tarentaise valley, in the area of the Three Valleys, we discover Courchevel gradually along a winding road marked by the 6 villages that make it up and which are all of different architecture and worlds: Saint-Bon and its narrow Savoyard streets - Le Praz, the bastion of ski jumping - La Tania, situated in the heart of the forest - Courchevel Village and Courchevel Moriond - and finally Courchevel 1850. One of the first resorts to be created in France, in 1946, Courchevel is a resort with many different environments.

TIGNES

Located in the Vanoise mountain range in the Haute-Tarentaise, Tignes is renowned for the quality of its skiing and its facilities. It is also famous for its dam which is known as the tallest in France and whose history is inseparable from that of the resort. Its construction in 1952 led to the destruction and subsequent submergence of the existing village. At the foot of 300 kilometres of ski slopes, the family-friendly resort is divided into several villages and neighbourhoods.

VAL D'ISERE

Val d'Isère was established in the 1930's and quickly attracted ski professionals by evolving into a high profile competition venue. Since then, it has successfully combined the authenticity with the demanding nature of the sport and the lifestyle. Above all, despite its popularity as a tourist destination, it has managed to hold on to its original residents.

MERIBEL*ANTARES - TAILOR MADE FLATS

On the ski slopes, in the heart of the 3 Valleys, Antarès houses 7 exceptional chalets with an authentic luxury where you get the hotel experience in your own home. Antares combines privacy and personal service. Dedicated Concierge, Spa, Kids Room, Ski Shop, so many services to help you enjoy a perfect experience.
